Dr. Hartog, Ph.D. to Speak on Virtual Assessment Centers

NEW YORK, NEW YORK –April 20, 2007 – Sandra Hartog, Ph.D., President and CEO of Fenestra, Inc., will speak at the New York University Forum on Technology and Industrial Organizational Psychology on Wednesday, April 25, 2007.

Dr. Hartog’s presentation will discuss the development and implementation of virtual assessment centers. In addition, a framework for evaluating when technology-enhanced assessment centers are warranted. Using Fenestra, Inc.’s web-based assessment center practice E-evaluation™ as an example, Dr. Hartog will highlight how virtual assessment centers unite the best of behavioral assessment and psychology with latest technology answering the call for a scalable, lower-cost, web-based assessment center method for talent management. The presentation will include a demo of Fenestra’s web-based assessment center platform and end with a forecast of future trends in virtual assessment centers.
